

Distribution of countries and territories

Annual Statistical Report on United Nations Procurement

Updated 13 July 2023 - www.ungm.org/ASR

In the ASR, the terms 'country' or 'countries' refer to countries and territories. Unless otherwise stated, they refer to supplier countries reported by the submitting organization. Tables, charts and dashboards show UN Member States only – other countries or territories are displayed as 'Remaining countries.'

Country names, as well as their designation by geographic region, follow the Standard Country or Area Codes for Statistical Use, referred to as the 'M49 standard' (prepared by the Statistics Division of the United Nations Secretariat).¹

For analytical purposes, the ASR uses the country categorizations of least developed countries (LDCs), landlocked developing countries (LLDCs) and small island developing states (SIDS), following the M49 standard as current at the end of the reporting period. There is no established convention for the definition of countries and areas that are considered LLDCs or SIDS. The current composition of countries and areas in the LLDC and SIDS groups was set at the beginning of the Sustainable Development Goals reporting period based on various definitions available at the time.

The designations employed do not imply the expression of any opinion whatsoever on the part of the UN concerning the legal status of any country, territory, city or area or of its authorities, or concerning the delimitation of its frontiers or boundaries. The assignment of countries or areas to specific groupings is for statistical convenience and does not imply any assumption regarding political or other affiliation of countries or territories by the UN.

Many UN organizations cannot report supplier country data due to the technical limitations of the procurement systems in use. Where organizations are unable to provide supplier country information, it is reported under 'Unspecified Countries.'

The ASR country list including information on categorization by region and development status is shown in the table below.
